DR. J BOVEE DODS' IMPERIAL WINE

BITTERS,

ARE made from a pure and unadulterated Wine, which is about double the usual strength of other Wines, and is imported by only one house in the United States. Also, from the following valuable Roots, Herbs, &c., viz: Solomon's Seal, Spikenard, Camomile Flowers, Gentian, Wild Cherry Tree Bark, and Hay berry.

WE CHALLENGE

THEIR EQUAL!

We do not profess to have discovered some Roots "known only to the Indians of South America," and a cure for "all diseases which flesh is heir to," but we claim to present to the public a truly valuable preparation, which every intelligent Physician in the country will approve of and recommend. As a remedy for

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Nervous System, Paralysis, Piles, Diseases peculiar to Females, Debility, and all cases requiring a Tonic, they are UNSURPASSED!

For Sore Throat, so common among the Clergy, they are truly valuable.

For the aged and infirm, or for persons of a weak constitution—for Ministers of the Gospel, Lawyers, and all public speakers—for Book-Keepers, Tailors, Seamstresses, Students, Artists, and all persons leading a sedentary life, they will prove truly beneficial.

As a Beverage, they are wholesome, innocent, and delicious to the taste. They produce all the exhilirating effects of Brandy or Wine, without intoxicating; and are a valuable remedy for persons addicted to excessive use of strong drink, and wish to remain from it. They are pure and entirely free from the poison contained in the adulterated Wines and Liquors with which the country is flooded.

These Bitters not only CURE, but PREVENT Disease, and should be used by all who live in a country where the water is bad or where Chills and Fevers are prevalent. Being entirely innocent and harmless, they may be given freely to Children and Infants with impunity

Physicians, Clergymen and temperance advocates, as an act of humanity, should assist in spreading these truly valuable BITTERS over the land, and thereby essentially aid in banishing Drunkenness and Disease.

DAILY GAZETTE.

The Battle of Sharpsburg.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

BATTLEFIELD OF SHARPSBURG, }
September 17—evening. }

The battle began with the dawn. Morning found both armies just as they had slept, almost close enough to look into each other's eyes. The left of Mead's reserves and the right of Rickett's line became engaged at nearly the same moment, one with artillery, the other with infantry. A battery was almost immediately pushed forward beyond the central woods, over a plowed field, near the top of the field where the cornfield began. On this open field, in the corn beyond, and in the woods which stretched forward into the broad fields, like a promontory into the ocean, were the hardest and deadliest struggles of the day.

For half an hour after the battle had grown to its full strength, the line of fire swayed neither way. Hooker's men were fully up to their work. They saw their general everywhere in front, never away from the fire, and all the troops believed in their commander, and fought with a will. Two thirds of them were the same men who under McDowell had broken at Manassas.

The half hour passed, the rebels began to give way a little, only a little, but at the first indication of a receding fire, Forward, was the word, and on went the line with a cheer and a rush. Back across the cornfield, leaving dead and wounded behind them, over the fence and across the road, and then back again into the dark woods, which closed around them, went the retreating rebels.

Meade and his Pennsylvanians followed hard and fast—followed till they came within easy range of the woods, among which they saw their beaten enemy disappearing—followed still, with another cheer, and flung themselves against the cover.

But out of those gloomy woods came suddenly and heavily terrible volleys—volleys which smote and bent, and broke in a moment that eager front, and hurled them swiftly back far half the distance they had won. Not swiftly, not in panic, any further. Closing up their shattered lines, they came slowly away—a regiment where a brigade had been, hardly a brigade where a whole division had been victorious. They had met from the woods the first volleys of musketry from fresh troops—had met them and returned them until their line had yielded and gone down before the weight of fire, and till their ammunition was exhausted.

In ten minutes the fortune of the day seemed to have changed—it was the rebels now who were advancing, pouring out of the woods in endless lines, sweeping through the corn-field from which their comrades had just fled. Hooker sent in his nearest brigade to meet them, but it could not do the work. He called for another. There was nothing close enough, unless he took it from his right. His right might be in danger if it was weakened, but his center was already threatened with annihilation. Not hesitating one moment, he sent to Doubleday: "Give me your best brigade instantly."

The best brigade came down the hill to the right on the run, went through the timber in front through a storm of shot and bursting shell and crashing limbs, over the open field beyond, and straight into the corn-field, passing as they went the fragments of three brigades shattered by the rebel fire, and streaming to the rear. They passed by Hooker, whose eyes lighted as he saw these veteran troops led by a soldier whom he knew he could trust. "I think they will hold it," he said.

Gen. Hartsuff took his troops very steadily, but now that they were under fire, not hurriedly, up the hill from which the cornfield begins to descend, and formed them on the crest. Not a man who was not in full view—not one who bent before the storm. Firing at first in volleys, they fired then at will with wonderful rapidity and effect. The whole line crowned the hill and stood out darkly against the sky, but lighted and shrouded over in flame and smoke. There were the 12th and 13th Massachusetts and another regiment which I cannot now remember—old troops all of them.

There for half an hour they held the ridge, unyielding in purpose, exhaustless in courage. There were gaps in the line, but it nowhere quailed. Their general was wounded badly early in the fight, but they fought on. Their supports did not come—they determined to win without them. They began to go down the hill and into the corn; they did not stop to think that their ammunition was nearly gone; they were there to win the field and they won it. The rebel line for the second time fled through the corn and into the woods. I cannot tell how few of Hartsuff's brigade were left when the work was done, but it was done. There was no more gallant, determined, heroic fighting in all this desperate day. Gen. Hartsuff is severely wounded, but I do not believe he counts his success too dearly purchased.

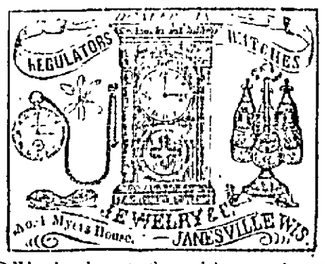

The crisis of the fight at this point had arrived. Rickett's division, vainly endeavoring to advance, and exhausted by the effort, had fallen back. Part of Mansfield's corps was ordered in to their relief, but Mansfield's troops came back again, and their general was mortally wounded. The left, nevertheless, was too extended to be turned, and too strong to be broken. Ricketts sent word he could not advance, but could hold his ground. Doubleday had kept his guns at work on the right, and had finally silenced a rebel battery that for half an hour had poured in a galling enfilading fire along Hooker's central line.

There were woods in front of Doubleday's hill which the rebels held, but so long as these guns pointed that way they did not care to attack. With his left then able to take care of itself, with his right impregnable, with two brigades of Mansfield still fresh and coming rapidly up, and with his center a second time victorious, General Hooker determined to advance. Orders were sent to Crawford and Gordon—the two Mansfield brigades—to move directly forward at once, the batteries in the center were ordered on, and the general himself went forward.

To the right of the corn-field and beyond it was a point of woods. Once carried and firmly held, it was the key of the position. Hooker determined to take it. He rode out in front of his furthest troops on a hill to examine the ground for a battery. At the top he dismounted and went forward on foot, completed his reconnoisance, returned and remounted. The musketry fire from the point of woods was all the while ex-

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $7

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

LEATHER WORK,

In Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dasher. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the sewing of tops and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Gauges, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

☞ Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

BOURBON WHISKEY

FOR

Medical Use.

Circular to Physicians and Others.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 1, 1862.

The undersigned respectfully calls the attention of the Medical faculty of the United States, to the following correspondence between a number of the most respectable and influential physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and the writer. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:—

DEAR SIR:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whisky as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacturers of Whisky in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to enquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whisky for the use of the sick. We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. As a remedy for

Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Nervous System, Paralysis, Piles, Diseases peculiar to Females, Debility, and all cases requiring a Tonic, they are

For Sore Throat, so common among the Clergy, they are truly valuable.

For the aged and infirm, or for persons of a weak constitution—for Ministers of the Gospel, Lawyers, and all public speakers—for Book-Keepers, Tailors, Seamstresses, Students, Artists, and all persons leading a sedentary life, they will prove truly beneficial.

As a Beverage, they are wholesome, innocent, and delicious to the taste. They produce all the exhilarating effects of Brandy or Wine, without intoxicating; and are a valuable remedy for persons addicted to excessive use of strong drink, and wish to refrain from it. They are pure and entirely free from the poison contained in the adulterated Wines and Liquors with which the country is flooded.

These Bitters not only CURE, but PREVENT Disease, and should be used by all who live in a country where the water is bad, or where Chills and Fevers are prevalent. Being entirely innocent and harmless, they may be given freely to Children and Infants with impunity.

Physicians, Clergymen and temperance advocates, as an act of humanity, should assist in spreading these truly valuable BITTERS over the land, and thereby essentially aid in banishing Drunkenness and Disease.

DAILY GAZETTE.

The Battle of Sharpsburg.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

BATTLEFIELD OF SHARPSBURG, September 17—evening.

The battle began with the dawn. Morning found both armies just as they had slept, almost close enough to look into each other's eyes. The left of Mead's reserves and the right of Rickett's line became engaged at nearly the same moment, one with artillery, the other with infantry. A battery was almost immediately pushed forward beyond the central woods, over a plowed field, near the top of the field where the cornfield began. On this open field, in the corn beyond, and in the woods which stretched forward into the broad fields, like a promontory into the ocean, were the hardest and deadliest struggles of the day.

For half an hour after the battle had grown to its full strength, the line of fire swayed neither way. Hooker's men were fully up to their work. They saw their general everywhere in front, never away from the fire, and all the troops believed in their commander, and fought with a will. Two-thirds of them were the same men who under McDowell had broken at Manassas.

The half hour passed, the rebels began to give way a little, only a little, but at the first indication of a receding fire, Forward, was the word, and on went the line with a cheer and a rush. Back across the cornfield, leaving dead and wounded behind them, over the fence and across the road, and then back again into the dark woods, which closed around them, went the retreating rebels.

Meade and his Pennsylvanians followed hard and fast—followed till they came within easy range of the woods, among which they saw their beaten enemy disappearing—followed still, with another cheer, and flung themselves against the cover.

But out of those gloomy woods came suddenly and heavily terrible volleys—volleys which smote and bent, and broke in a moment that eager front, and hurled them swiftly back far half the distance they had won. Not swiftly, not in panic, any further. Closing up their shattered lines, they came slowly away—a regiment where a brigade had been, hardly a brigade where a whole division had been victorious. They had met from the woods the first volleys of musketry from fresh troops—had met them and returned them until their line had yielded and gone down before the weight of fire, and till their ammunition was exhausted.

In ten minutes the fortune of the day seemed to have changed—it was the rebels now who were advancing, pouring out of the woods in endless lines, sweeping through the corn-field from which their comrades had just fled. Hooker sent in his nearest brigade to meet them, but it could not do the work. He called for another. There was nothing close enough, unless he took it from his right. His right might be in danger if it was weakened, but his center was already threatened with annihilation. Not hesitating one moment, he sent to Doubleday: "Give me your best brigade instantly."

The best brigade came down the hill to the right on the run, went through the timber in front through a storm of shot and bursting shell and crashing limbs, over the open field beyond, and straight into the corn-field, passing as they went the fragments of three brigades shattered by the rebel fire, and streaming to the rear. They passed by Hooker, whose eyes lighted as he saw these veteran troops led by a soldier whom he knew he could trust. "I think they will hold it," he said.

Gen. Hartsuff took his troops very steadily, but now that they were under fire, not hurriedly, up the hill from which the cornfield begins to descend, and formed them on the crest. Not a man who was not in full view—not one who bent before the storm. Firing at first in volleys, they fired then at will with wonderful rapidity and effect. The whole line crowned the hill and stood out darkly against the sky, but lighted and shrouded over in flame and smoke. There were the 12th and 13th Massachusetts and another regiment which I cannot now remember—old troops all of them.

There for half an hour they held the ridge, unyielding in purpose, exhaustless in courage. There were gaps in the line, but it nowhere quailed. Their general was wounded badly early in the fight, but they fought on. Their supports did not come—they determined to win without them. They began to go down the hill and into the corn; they did not stop to think that their ammunition was nearly gone; they were there to win the field and they won it. The rebel line for the second time fled through the corn and into the woods. I cannot tell how few of Hartsuff's brigade were left when the work was done, but it was done. There was no more gallant, determined, heroic fighting in all this desperate day. Gen. Hartsuff is severely wounded, but I do not believe he counts his success too dearly purchased.

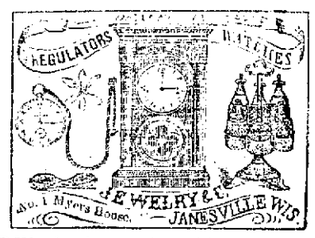

The crisis of the fight at this point had arrived. Rickett's division, vainly endeavoring to advance, and exhausted by the effort, had fallen back. Part of Mansfield's corps was ordered in to their relief, but Mansfield's troops came back again, and their general was mortally wounded. The left, nevertheless, was too extended to be turned, and too strong to be broken. Ricketts sent word he could not advance, but could hold his ground. Doubleday had kept his guns at work on the right, and had finally silenced a rebel battery that for half an hour had poured in a galling enfilading fire along Hooker's central line.

There were woods in front of Doubleday's hill which the rebels held, but so long as these guns pointed that way they did not care to attack. With his left then able to take care of itself, with his right impregnable, with two brigades of Mansfield still fresh and coming rapidly up, and with his center a second time victorious, General Hooker determined to advance. Orders were sent to Crawford and Gordon—the two Mansfield brigades—to move directly forward at once, the batteries in the center were ordered on, and the general himself went forward.

To the right of the corn-field and beyond it was a point of woods. Once carried and firmly held, it was the key of the position. Hooker determined to take it. He rode out in front of his furthest troops on a hill to examine the ground for a battery. At the top he dismounted and went forward on foot, completed his reconnoissance, returned and remounted. The musketry fire from the point of woods was all the while ex-

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $7

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand: so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

☞ Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

BOURBON WHISKEY

FOR

Medical Use.

Circular to Physicians and Others.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 1, 1862.

The undersigned respectfully calls the attention of the Medical Faculty of the United States, to the following correspondence between a number of the most respectable and influential physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and the writer. WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:—

DEAR SIR:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whisky as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacturers of Whisky in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to enquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whisky for the use of the sick. We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly, Nomination of Mr. Sloan.

We announce with no ordinary feelings of gratification the nomination of I. C. Sloan, of this city, as the republican candidate for congress in this district. Mr. Sloan is not only an able man, intellectually well qualified for the position for which he has been nominated, but he is of that class of true and reliable men who may be safely trusted with the momentous issues which now distract the country and by which is sought the overthrow of the government. He will be such a representative as ought to be entrusted with the interests which will be committed to his keeping. Treason will find no apologist in him, and no disgraceful compromise will be made with traitors by his vote. His nomination, moreover, is a gratifying acknowledgement of the political position of Rock county, and a well deserved compliment to her earnest republicans. Now let the county thus honored evince its appreciation of the confidence thus reposed by one of its heartiest and largest majorities for the candidate of its choice.

The proceedings of the convention are given in another column.

Passage of the Army Suffrage Bill.

After the exhaustion of every device by the democratic members of the legislature to defeat the bill providing for taking the vote of volunteer citizens in the army for members of congress and the state legislature, encouraged by the democratic press of the state, that bill has passed by a decided vote. It is a just measure to a class of men who have sacrificed much in the defence of their country, and the opposition to it has been of a purely partisan character. We give elsewhere the vote on its passage, and ask the attention of our readers to its political character. The claim has been continually made by democratic partisans that a large majority of the volunteers were democratic in their party attachments; yet notwithstanding this claim, we find a party which never yet hesitated to avail itself of any political aid, almost unitedly opposing a law giving these very volunteers an opportunity to vote. We do not feel disposed to engage in a mere partisan wrangle, but the facts we have stated are proper to be remembered, and the legitimate inferences drawn from them.

Columbia County Nominations.

The republicans of Columbia county have made an unusually strong and excellent ticket. For the legislature, especially, they have brought out their best men, who will not fail in firmness or fidelity in the important duties they will be called upon to perform. Mr. Bowman, the present able and leading member in the assembly, has been nominated for the senate, and A. J. Turner, John Q. Adams and Yates Ashley for the assembly. Mr. Turner is the editor of the Portage City Register, true as steel, and "smart as a whip." Mr. Adams has formerly served in the legislature, and was one of the most useful members of the body. The county ticket is of the same stamp. Columbia county has taken a high position, and will maintain it.

BATTLE OF SHARPSBURG.—Notwithstanding we already published a somewhat lengthy description of this battle, we commence to-day and will finish to-morrow a report of it by a correspondent of the New York Tribune. The importance of the battle itself, and the thrilling style of the narrative, are obvious reasons why we should place on record this report of the Tribune.

EDWARD O. WRIGHT.—We have been kindly furnished letters from Edward O. Wright and his brother giving interesting information as to the circumstances under which he was wounded and the manner in which Edward reached a friendly hospital, together with his present situation, which we shall publish to-morrow. To-day other matters crowd these letters out. His many friends will be glad to hear that he is not considered in a dangerous condition and is receiving those attentions his situation requires.

The Battle of Sharpsburg.

tremely hot. As he put his foot in the stirrup a fresh volley of rifle bullets came whizzing by. The tall soldierly figure of the General, the white horse which he rode, the elevated place where he was—all made him a most dangerously conspicuous mark. So he had been all day, aiding often without a staff officer or an orderly near him—all sent off on urgent duty—visible everywhere on the field. The rebel bullets had followed him all day, but they had not hit him and he would not regard them. Remounting on this hill he had not ridden five steps when he was struck in the foot by a ball.

Three men were shot down at the same moment by his side. The air was alive with bullets. He kept on his horse for a few moments, though the wound was severe and excessively painful, and would not dismount till he had given his last order to advance. He was himself in the very front. Swaying unsteadily on his horse, he turned in his seat to look about him. "There is a regiment to the right. Order it forward! Crawford and Gordon are coming up. Tell them to carry these woods and hold them—and it is our fight!"

It was found that the bullet had passed completely through his foot. The surgeon who examined it on the spot could give no opinion whether bones were broken, but it was afterward ascertained that, though grazed, they were not fractured. Of course, the severity of the wound made it impossible for him to keep the field which he believed already won, so far as it belonged to him to win it. It was nine o'clock. The fight had been furious since five. A large part of his command was broken, but, with his right still untouched and with Crawford's and Gordon's brigades just up, above all, with the advance of the whole central line which the men had heard ordered with cheers, with a regiment already on the edge of the woods he wanted, he might well leave the field thinking the battle was won—that his battle was won, for I am writing, of course, only about the attack on the rebel left.

Sumner arrived just as Hooker was leaving, and assumed command. Crawford and Gordon had gone into the woods, and were holding them stoutly against heavy odds. As I rode over toward the left I met Sumner at the head of his column advancing rapidly through the timber, opposite the point where Crawford was fighting. The veteran General was riding alone in the forest far ahead of his leading brigade, his hat off, his grey hair and beard and mustache strangely contrasting with the fire in his eyes and his martial air, as he hurried on where the bullets were thickest.

Sedgwick's division was in advance, moving forward to support Crawford and Gordon. Rebel reinforcements were approaching also, and the struggle for the roads was again to be renewed. Sumner sent forward two divisions, Richardson and French, on the left. Sedgwick, moving in columns of divisions through the woods in rear, deployed and advanced a line over the corn field. There was a broad interval between him and the nearest division, and he saw that if the rebel line were complete his own division was in immediate danger of being flanked. But his orders were to advance, and those are the orders which a soldier—and Sedgwick is every inch a soldier—loves best to hear.

To extend his own front as far as possible, he ordered the 34th New York to move by the left flank. The maneuvre was attempted under a fire of the greatest intensity, and the regiment broke. At the same moment the enemy, perceiving their advantage, came round on that flank. Crawford was obliged to give on the right, and his troops pouring in confusion through the ranks of Sedgwick's advance brigade, threw it into disorder, and back on the second and third lines. The enemy advanced, their fire increasing.

Gen. Sedgwick was three times wounded, in the shoulder, leg and wrist, but he persisted in remaining on the field so long as there was a chance of saving it. His adjutant general, Major Sedgwick, bravely rallying and trying to reform the troops, was shot through the body, the bullet lodging in the spine, and fell from his horse. Severe as the wound is, it is probably not mortal. Lieut. Howe, of Gen. Sedgwick's staff, endeavored vainly to rally the 34th New York. They were badly cut up and would not stand. Half their officers were killed or wounded, their colors shot to pieces, the color-sergeant killed, every one of the color-guard wounded. Only thirty-two were afterward got together.

The 15th Massachusetts went into action with 17 officers and nearly 600 men. Nine officers were killed or wounded, and some of the latter are prisoners. One hundred and thirty-four men were the only remnant that could be collected of this splendid regiment.

Gen. Dana was wounded. Gen. Howard, who took command of the division after Gen. Sedgwick was disabled, exerted himself to restore order, but it could not be done there. Gen. Sumner ordered the line to be reformed under fire. The test was too severe for volunteer troops under such a fire. Sumner himself attempted to arrest the disorder, but to little purpose. Lt. Col. Revere and Capt. Audenreid of his staff were wounded severely, but not dangerously. It was impossible to hold the position. Gen. Sumner withdrew the division to the rear, and once more the cornfield was abandoned to the enemy.

French sent word that he could hold his ground. Richardson, while gallantly leading a regiment under heavy fire, was severely wounded in the shoulder. Gen. Meagher was wounded at the head of his brigade. The loss in general officers was becoming frightful.

At one o'clock affairs on the right had a gloomy look. Hooker's troops were greatly exhausted, and their General away from the field. Mansfield's were no better. Sumner's command had lost heavily, but two of his divisions were still comparatively fresh. Artillery was yet playing vigorously in front, though the ammunition of many of the batteries was entirely exhausted, and they had been compelled to retire.

Doubleday held the right inflexibly. Sumner's headquarters were now in the narrow field here, the night before, Hooker had begun the fight. All that had been gained in front had been lost! The enemy's batteries, which if advanced and served vigorously, might have made sad work with the closely-massed troops, were fortunately either partially disabled or short of ammunition. Sumner was confident that he could hold his own; but another advance was out of the question. The enemy, on the other hand, seemed to be too much exhausted to attack.

[Concluded to morrow.]

DETROIT, Sept. 24.

The republican state convention assembled in this city to-day, and nominated the present state officers for re election, except the lieutenant governor, auditor, and attorney general. Parson Brownlow was present, and addressed the convention this morning.

The state fair, now being held, promises to be more than ever successful. Parson Brownlow delivers the annual address.

Seventeenth Ballot.—Sloan 25, David Atwood 21.

ITHAMAR C. SLOAN having received a majority of all the votes cast, was, on motion of David Atwood, unanimously declared the nominee of the convention.

A committee of three was then appointed, of which David Atwood was the chairman, to wait upon the nominee of the convention, to inform him of his nomination, and to request his presence in the hall.

Mr. Sloan then appeared, accompanied by the committee, and addressed the convention, in substance, as follows:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:—

I am deeply grateful for the high honor you have conferred upon me. I am sensible of the responsibility of the position, and of my inability to meet your just expectations should I be elected to the office for which you have put me in nomination, and I feel that the only adequate return I can make to you and to the people of this district, should your choice be ratified by them, at the polls, will be by a faithful adherence to the principles of the republican party, the principles of liberty and equality to all; not only because they are the principles of the republican party, but because constitutional government can be preserved and perpetuated, only by the success and triumph of these principles. Slavery is the awful incubus which for more than forty years has hung with fearful weight on the country, and this inconsistency in our institutions, the antagonism between freedom and slavery, has been the only hindrance to the full developement of the principles upon which our government was founded, and it alone has seriously threatened our existence as a nation, and the perpetuity of our free institutions. For more than forty years there has been going on a conflict between the free labor of the north and the involuntary and unrequited labor of the south, under which the full developement of the institutions of the free states and the people therein has been manifest, while if the slave states have grown at all, they have lagged so far behind their sister states, as to demonstrate, in a wonderful degree, the superiority of free over slave labor. While this has been going on in the physical developement of the two sections, the dominant class in the slave states have been constantly and unremittingly endeavoring to control the government, and to engraft their institution upon the national life, and make slavery the dominant and ruling power, and thus in a measure curse alike the free and the slave states with its baneful influence. Failing in this, and seeing the determination of the free north to resist, in a constitutional way these endeavors, and to prevent the consummation of their purposes, they determined, as they could not rule, to ruin the government which they had so long controlled.

For eighteen months we have been engaged in a war for the suppression of the slaveholders' rebellion, and for the preservation and re-establishment of constitutional government. We have been compelled to meet the men who have been protected by this government, on the battle field as traitors in arms, endeavoring by force to do what they failed fully to accomplish as officers of the government.

Since the ascendancy of the republican party, we have seen slavery disappear from the national capital and the territories, so that in all places where the national government has supreme power no slave can be found. And now, thank God, under the proclamation of the President, slavery is doomed in all the rebellious states, and we have the glorious prospect before us of a government disenthralled and delivered from the curse of slavery, and a country free, stretching from ocean to ocean, from the great lakes to the gulf; and where once was seen the down-trodden bondsman, shut out from the light of liberty, we shall behold nothing but free men. This is no time to discuss these questions. I am wholly unprepared to do so, but at some future time I shall hope to meet you and express my views upon them. Again thanking you for the honor conferred, I now accept the nomination tendered me.

The following committee on resolutions was then appointed: Messrs. Burgess, Atwood and Clark.

On motion, the delegates of the several counties selected the following congressional central committee: B. F. Hopkins, of Dane, chairman; R. H. Mills, of Rock; Alvin Stewart, of Columbia, and D. Jones, Jefferson.

The convention then adjourned to meet at half past seven o'clock in the evening, and upon re-assembling at that hour, the following resolutions were reported and adopted, when the convention adjourned, sine die.

Resolved, That the country is in a crisis demanding the exercise of every prerogative of the government, and every exertion and sacrifice on the part of the people to maintain its integrity and its just authority.

Resolved, That in our opinion it is the duty of the national government to prosecute this war with the utmost vigor, to employ every kind and description of persons and property in this country to accomplish the speedy end of this rebellion.

Resolved, That in our opinion the government ought to prepare for a war of indefinite duration—a war to be prosecuted for one year or ten generations, if it shall be necessary, to accomplish the end in view.

Resolved, That the men who are engaged in armed resistance to the government stand in the double attitude of rebels and of enemies in open war; that, as rebels, they are criminals and traitors, and justly subject to all the penalties and punishments which follow the crime of treason under the constitution and the laws, while as enemies in open war, we may justly pursue, weaken, disable and crush their power by all means which are permitted by the laws of war; and it should be the unalterable purpose of the government to crush out the rebellion utterly, and to destroy forever the power of the leaders to do us harm.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the honesty of purpose, the fidelity to principle, and the zealous patriotism of the President of the United States, and assure him that there is no possibility of his getting in advance of the wishes and sentiments of the people in the employment of any means whatever to restore the authority of the government.

Resolved, That while this war is prosecuted with no other purpose than to preserve the Union and maintain the supremacy of the national government within the legitimate sphere of its authority, over every inch of soil within the limits of the United States and the territories thereunto belonging, we denounce as heretical and pernicious the doctrine that rebels and traitors are entitled to any privileges and protection whatever under the constitution and laws, which they have defied, and for the overthrow of which they have arrayed themselves in arms.

Resolved, That we duly appreciate, and cannot too highly commend the judicous and impartial manner in which our Governor is performing the duties of his office, disregarding all claims or importunities of any special class, interest, or section, and fairly and sagaciously consulting only the public good.

Resolved, That we acknowledge with pride and gratitude the conduct of the brave and patriotic volunteers who have gone from this state to aid in putting down a wicked rebellion. Whenever they have met the foe, they have fought with the intrepid valor of veterans. The luster of their deeds reflects glory upon our young state. We pledge them our warmest sympathy and support; we will spare no pains to contribute to their well being and encouragement. Those who honorably return shall receive the thanks and welcome that brave men deserve; the memories of those who perish by battle or disease, shall be embalmed forever in the hearts of a grateful people.

Resolved, That we hail the late proclamation of President Lincoln as the morning star of a brighter day, that we adopt it as our platform on which we shall stand until we become a free nation in fact as well as in name.

Resolved, That in the nominee of this convention, the Hon. ITHAMAR C. SLOAN, we recognize an able and fearless champion of the great principles of the republican party, and that we cordially pledge our united and zealous efforts, in all laudable ways to secure his election.

Well Done.

The conduct, in the Assembly, of the friends of the bill for taking the votes of the citizen soldiers in the army, was admirable during the long and factious opposition made against it yesterday. We have seldom seen men, under circumstances so well calculated to irritate, exhibit such good temper in connection with such inflexibility of purpose. They sat patiently, hour after hour, and heard speeches, obviously made for no other purpose than to consume time. They heard, from Messrs. Sanborn, H. L. Palmer and Platto, the vilest insinuations against their loyalty, against the administration, and against the most sacredly cherished convictions of the great majority of the people of the loyal states, without stooping to make any reply. What little was said by the friends of the bill, was spoken only in vindication of its justness, and its constitutionality. They sat right along, from 2½ until 8½ o'clock in the evening, during which time they were compelled to endure a speech from Mr. Palmer of two and a half hours, and another from Mr. Platto of two hours in length. During all this time they preserved the imperturbable good nature and serenity of men who had no doubts of the justice of the measure they were supporting.

Especial credit is due to those democrats who had the honesty and the bravery to break away from the edicts of their caucus and the powerful partisan influences exerted upon them. Messrs. Stamm, Latham and Hatcher acted not only honestly but bravely. We do not include Messrs. Morrow and Bassett in this category for the reason that up to the time of a direct vote on the bill they had co-operated fully with its enemies. Those bogus union democrats, elected from republican districts, who opposed this bill and who have generally voted with the partisan democrats, will doubtless be remembered by their constituents.—Madison Journal.

Last Night's Report.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24.

Buell has flanked Bragg. The latter is retreating. Morgan has evacuated Cumberland Gap and recaptured Richmond, Ky., with many prisoners and large quantities of stores. The panic is over at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24—11 P. M.

The intense excitement of the last few days has given place to great rejoicing at the immediate proximity of seven divisions of Buell's army, which are coming up from the direction of Salt River. The enemy seem to be concentrating at Bloomfield. About 12,000 of them were seen this morning beyond Salt River, on the Bardstown road.

Louisville is now considered entirely safe, and though a fight may occur in our vicinity before the arrival of Buell's divisions, nobody has any fears respecting the result. General Nelson is confident he can hold the position against any odds until the approaching federal reinforcements shall arrive.

LEAVENWORTH, Sept. 24.

The Times, of this city, has advices of a fight on the 20th at Shirley's Ford, ten miles northwest of Carthage, between the 3d Indiana regiment, Col. Richie, and a force of 600 rebels, resulting in the rout of the enemy, with a loss of from sixty to ninety killed.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 24.

An arrival at St. Cloud reports more murders by the Sioux. In the town of Richmond, two men and two children were killed, and the inhabitants were fleeing to St. Cloud, leaving the town to the ravages of the Indians.

A messenger from Fort Abercrombie arrived at St. Cloud on the 21st. He reports the fort safe. The Indians abandoned the siege.

Forty or fifty Chippewa braves offered their services to Gov. Ramsey to day to fight the Sioux, but they will not be accepted at present.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.

About $50,000 have been collected at San Francisco for the relief of wounded soldiers since the remittance east of the first $100,000. The movement continues unabated, and other portions of the state have commenced the good work in earnest.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune. —Gen. Curtis has assumed command of this department, and issued his first general order. He proposes to initiate many wholesome reforms, and will stop the use of the state militia for returning the slaves of rebel owners.

Gen. Schofield's safe arrival at Springfield relieves the anxiety of his friends. Rumors were quite current in town that he has been taken prisoner on the road by the guerrillas.

The proposed meeting to endorse Lincoln's emancipation proclamation has been temporarily postponed.

A private dispatch received in this city, states that Gen. Totten has seized the secessionists near Springfield, and made them work on the rifle pits and fortifications.

About 100 prisoners have arrived within the last 24 hours from all directions.

The Gratiot street prison is again full.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24, (midnight.)

Gen. Buell has just arrived.

Gen. Nelson has just issued an order permitting to-morrow a general resumption of business, the issuing of passes to loyal persons, and the discharge of all enrolled citizens from duty.

To-Day's Report.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that but one license is required for a person who practices medicine, surgery and dentistry; also that ship building is not a manufacture nor liable to taxation.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Whereas, It has become necessary to call into service not only volunteers, but also portions of the militia of the states by draft, in order to suppress the insurrection existing in the United States, and disloyal persons are not adequately restrained by the ordinary process of law from hindering this measure, and from giving aid and comfort in various ways to the insurrection: Now, therefore, be it ordered, first, that during the existing insurrection, and as a necessary measure for suppressing the same, all rebels and insurgents, their aiders and abettors within the United States, and all persons discouraging volunteer enlistments, resisting militia drafts, and guilty of any disloyal practice, offering aid and comfort to the rebels against the authority of the United States, shall be subject to martial law and liable to trial and punishment by court martial or military commission; second, that the writ of habeas corpus is suspended in respect to all persons arrested, or who are now or hereafter, during the rebellion, shall be imprisoned in any fort, camp, arsenal, military prison or other place of confinement, by any military authority, or by the sentence of any court martial or military commission.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 24th day of September, 1862, and of the independence of the United States the 87th. (Signed)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President, Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.

So much of general order 15 as directs the dismissal of Capt. J. O. Patten, 73d Ohio, is by direction of the President, revoked. A special commission, consisting of Generals Hunter, Cadwallader, and Auger, and several other officers, with Col. Holt as judge advocate, will assemble here, to-morrow, for the consideration of such business as may come before them. In addition to Gen. White, Cols. Dutessey, Trimble and Ford arrived, to-day, from Annapolis, under arrest, in connection with the Harper's Ferry surrender.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.

A large crowd assembled at the Executive Mansion, to-day, for the purpose of serenading the President. Having been cheered and called for, he appeared at an upper window, and spoke as follows:

Fellow Citizens:—I appear before you to do but little more than acknowledge the courtesy you pay me, and thank you for it. I have not been distinctly informed why it is, on this occasion, you appear to do me this honor, though I suppose, [interruptions, "It's because of the proclamations." Cries of "Good," and applause.] I suppose I understand it. [Laughter. Voices, "You do, you thoroughly understand it."]

What I did, I did after a very full deliberation, and under a very heavy and solemn sense of responsibility. [Cries of "Good," "Good," "God bless you," and applause.]

I can only trust in God I have made no mistake. [Cries of "No mistake," "All right," "You've made no mistake yet," "Your right."]

I shall make no attempt on this occasion to sustain what I have done or said, by any comment. It is now for the country and the world to pass judgment upon it, and they may take action upon it, I will say no more upon this subject. In my position I am environed with difficulties, yet they are scarcely so great as the difficulties of those who upon the battle field are endeavoring to purchase with their blood and their lives the future happiness and prosperity of this country. [Applause and long continued cheering.] Let us never forget them. On the 16th and 17th of this present month there have been battles bravely, skillfully and successfully fought. We do not yet know the particulars; let us be sure that in giving praise to particular persons, we do no injustice to others. I only ask you at the conclusion of these few remarks to give three hearty cheers to all good and brave officers and men who fought those successful battles.

Cheer after cheer was given, when the President bade the crowd good night and withdrew.

The procession then proceeded to the residence of Secretary Chase. He understood they had just paid their respects to the chief magistrate of the republic to thank him for having issued a proclamation which will find a response in the hearts of the American people. No one, he said, can rejoice more sincerely in the belief that the judgment you have expressed will be the judgment of the entire people of the United States. I am better accustomed to work than to speak. I love acts better than words, but nothing has ever given me more sincere pleasure than to say amen to this last great act of the chief magistrate.

Attorney General Bates was called upon and made a few remarks expressing thanks for the compliment.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 24.

The governors of nearly all the loyal states met here to-day, at noon, according to agreement. Fourteen governors were present, and three states were represented by proxy. They held an informal meeting from 1 to 2 o'clock. The governors of the following states were present: Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Iowa, Maine, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Ohio, Maryland, New Hampshire, Virginia, Illinois and Indiana. Kentucky, Missouri and Vermont were represented by proxy. Governor Ramsey was absent, on account of Indian troubles.

At the second meeting at 4 P. M., the greatest unanimity appeared to prevail with regard to the President's proclamation.

The convention again met at 10 o'clock this evening, and will probably remain in session all night. Gov. Curtin will propose and urge strongly upon the convention the propriety of insisting upon the removal by the national government of all sick and wounded volunteers to their respective states, which will be heartily supported by Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, and others. No doubt appears to exist as to its adoption.

Major General McClernand and staff are here.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 24.

One hundred guns were fired here, at noon to-day, bells rung, and bonfires made in the evening, in honor of the President's proclamation.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.

A gentleman from Williamsport this forenoon says that no troops had passed into Virginia up to 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, neither had any of the different divisions received any orders for a forward movement. The impression seemed to prevail among the soldiers that when they did move they would proceed into Western Virginia, crossing at Williamsport. The enemy, he says, will undoubtedly dispute the crossing here, and when McClellan orders a forward movement, a battle will undoubtedly take place at this point. This gentleman dined at a house in Hagerstown where Lee and staff made their headquarters. The lady of the house says she heard Lee instruct his officers to see that no depredations were committed by soldiers while in Maryland, but when they entered Pennsylvania they might pillage and destroy everything on their route.

Quartermaster General Hale visited the different hospitals at Hagerstown to-day, and reports the sick and wounded properly cared for. They have bandages for their comfort, but jellies and other delicacies are much needed.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.

Flour 5,10a5,30 for super western; 5,50 a5,75 for common to medium extra western. Wheat 1a2c higher—1,12a1,18 for Chicago spring; 1,15,a1,20 for Milwaukee club.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.

Special to Herald.—Gen. Morgan has not evacuated Cumberland Gap. He is amply provisioned for two months, and will hold out to the last.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.

Sharpsburg letter to the Philadelphia Enquirer says it has been semi-officially stated that our loss in the battle of Antietam was 9,220 killed, wounded and missing, and the loss of the rebels, judging from the appearance of the battle field, must exceed 10,000.

Dr. Duflie, brigade surgeon on Sigel's staff, has arrived at Philadelphia from Richmond, where he has been a prisoner four or five weeks. One of Pope's officers had been deliberately shot at Richmond and reported died of congestion of the brain. Three or four thousand rebel soldiers were under guard upon a charge of attempted desertion. There are around Richmond 5,000 or 10,000 troops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.

The post office department has received information from various sources that certain persons persistently divert postage stamps from their legitimate purposes by circulating them in packages, together with cancelled stamps, as currency. Owing to this use of stamps, the department is embarrassed in the supply for mail purposes. The public, therefore, are interested in discountenancing their circulation as currency. In all cases of infraction of the law, coming to the knowledge of the post office department the parties will be prosecuted, as it is a grave offense. This, of course, has no connection with the specially designated stamp currency.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.

Information received from the commissioner of Indian affairs, states that the difficulties with the Chippewas in Minnesota have been adjusted, but he is fearful that the troubles with the Sioux in the same state have only just commenced, and that they will be of long continuance.

Gen. Prince and other officers recently captured from the late army of Pope, have been released by the rebel government and will arrive at Annapolis this evening.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.

Times correspondence — Several rebel prisoners captured by Sigel's corps near Centreville, were brought here to day. They gave the loss of the rebels in the late battles in Maryland at about 20,000. The rebels have concentrated their forces at Winchester, which place they are fortifying. They regard the capture of Harper's Ferry as an offset to the loss of the battle on the Antietam, and say their retreat from Maryland was effected in the best of order. These prisoners report the loss of rebel officers in the late engagements as very great.

A dispatch from a Times' special just received, says Lt. Karney has returned from a scouting expedition to Leesburg, and vicinity. The rebels have cavalry in all directions, in that neighborhood. There are no rebel soldiers between Washington and Centerville.

Some refugees from Richmond just arrived state that there are no rebel pickets between Hanover Court House and the Potomac, and only 20 men were stationed along the railroad between Hanover and Richmond. Great apprehension of famine prevail among the lower classes in Richmond, the price of provisions already being so high as to almost place them beyond their reach.

MARRIED.

In Orford, September 21st, by the Rev. Henry Sewell, Mr. HENRY WRIGHT, of the town of Porter, Rock county, and Miss JULIA VAN HORN, of Cambridge, Dane county.

DIED.

In this city, September 25th, GEORGE B., only child of Ellis and Olive Doty, aged one year, six months and twelve days.

The funeral services will be held at their residence, corner of Bluff and North Second streets, at 10 o'clock A. M., to morrow.

Nomination of Mr. Sloan.

We announce with no ordinary feelings of gratification the nomination of I. C. Sloan, of this city, as the republican candidate for congress in this district. Mr. Sloan is not only an able man, intellectually well qualified for the position for which he has been nominated, but he is of that class of true and reliable men who may be safely trusted with the momentous issues which now distract the country and by which is sought the overthrow of the government. He will be such a representative as ought to be entrusted with the interests which will be committed to his keeping. Treason will find no apologist in him, and no disgraceful compromise will be made with traitors by his vote. His nomination, moreover, is a gratifying acknowledgement of the political position of Rock county, and a well deserved compliment to her earnest republicans. Now let the county thus honored evince its appreciation of the confidence thus reposed by one of its heartiest and largest majorities for the candidate of its choice.

The proceedings of the convention are given in another column.

Passage of the Army Suffrage Bill.

After the exhaustion of every device by the democratic members of the legislature to defeat the bill providing for taking the vote of volunteer citizens in the army for members of congress and the state legislature, encouraged by the democratic press of the state, that bill has passed by a decided vote. It is a just measure to a class of men who have sacrificed much in the defence of their country, and the opposition to it has been of a purely partisan character. We give elsewhere the vote on its passage, and ask the attention of our readers to its political character. The claim has been continually made by democratic partisans that a large majority of the volunteers were democratic in their party attachments; yet notwithstanding this claim, we find a party which never yet hesitated to avail itself of any political aid, almost unitedly opposing a law giving these very volunteers an opportunity to vote. We do not feel disposed to engage in a mere partisan wrangle, but the facts we have stated are proper to be remembered, and the legitimate inferences drawn from them.

Columbia County Nominations.

The republicans of Columbia county have made an unusually strong and excellent ticket. For the legislature, especially, they have brought out their best men, who will not fail in firmness or fidelity in the important duties they will be called upon to perform. Mr. Bowman, the present able and leading member in the assembly, has been nominated for the senate, and A. J. Turner, John Q. Adams and Yates Ashley for the assembly. Mr. Turner is the editor of the Portage City Register, true as steel, and "smart as a whip." Mr. Adams has formerly served in the legislature, and was one of the most useful members of the body. The county ticket is of the same stamp. Columbia county has taken a high position, and will maintain it.

Battle of Sharpsburg.—Notwithstanding we already published a somewhat lengthy description of this battle, we commence to-day and will finish to-morrow a report of it by a correspondent of the New York Tribune. The importance of the battle itself, and the thrilling style of the narrative, are obvious reasons why we should place on record this report of the Tribune.

Edward O. Wright.—We have been kindly furnished letters from Edward O. Wright and his brother giving interesting information as to the circumstances under which he was wounded and the manner in which Edward reached a friendly hospital, together with his present situation, which we shall publish to-morrow. To-day other matters crowd these letters out. His many friends will be glad to hear that he is not considered in a dangerous condition and is receiving those attentions his situation requires.

The Battle of Sharpsburg.

tremely hot. As he put his foot in the stirrup a fresh volley of rifle bullets came whizzing by. The tall soldierly figure of the General, the white horse which he rode, the elevated place where he was—all made him a most dangerously conspicuous mark. So he had been all day, aiding often without a staff officer or an orderly near him—all sent off on urgent duty—visible everywhere on the field. The rebel bullets had followed him all day, but they had not hit him and he would not regard them. Remounting on this hill he had not ridden five steps when he was struck in the foot by a ball.

Three men were shot down at the same moment by his side. The air was alive with bullets. He kept on his horse for a few moments, though the wound was severe and excessively painful, and would not dismount till he had given his last order to advance. He was himself in the very front. Swaying unsteadily on his horse, he turned in his seat to look about him. "There is a regiment to the right. Order it forward! Crawford and Gordon are coming up. Tell them to carry these woods and hold them—and it is our fight!"

It was found that the bullet had passed completely through his foot. The surgeon who examined it on the spot could give no opinion whether bones were broken, but it was afterward ascertained that, though grazed, they were not fractured. Of course, the severity of the wound made it impossible for him to keep the field which he believed already won, so far as it belonged to him to win it. It was nine o'clock. The fight had been furious since five. A large part of his command was broken, but, with his right still untouched and with Crawford's and Gordon's brigades just up, above all, with the advance of the whole central line which the men had heard ordered with cheers, with a regiment already on the edge of the woods he wanted, he might well leave the field thinking the battle was won—that his battle was won, for I am writing, of course, only about the attack on the rebel left.

Sumner arrived just as Hooker was leaving, and assumed command. Crawford and Gordon had gone into the woods, and were holding them stoutly against heavy odds. As I rode over toward the left I met Sumner at the head of his column advancing rapidly through the timber, opposite the point where Crawford was fighting. The veteran General was riding alone in the forest far ahead of his leading brigade, his hat off, his grey hair and beard and mustache strangely contrasting with the fire in his eyes and his martial air, as he hurried on where the bullets were thickest.

Sedgwick's division was in advance, moving forward to support Crawford and Gordon. Rebel reinforcements were approaching also, and the struggle for the roads was again to be renewed. Sumner sent forward two divisions, Richardson and French, on the left. Sedgwick, moving in columns of divisions through the woods in rear, deployed and advanced a line over the corn field. There was a broad interval between him and the nearest division, and he saw that if the rebel line were complete his own division was in immediate danger of being flanked. But his orders were to advance, and those are the orders which a soldier—and Sedgwick is every inch a soldier—loves best to hear.

To extend his own front as far as possible, he ordered the 34th New York to move by the left flank. The manœuvre was attempted under a fire of the greatest intensity, and the regiment broke. At the same moment the enemy, perceiving their advantage, came round on that flank. Crawford was obliged to give on the right, and his troops pouring in confusion through the ranks of Sedgwick's advance brigade, threw it into disorder, and back on the second and third lines. The enemy advanced, their fire increasing.

Gen. Sedgwick was three times wounded, in the shoulder, leg and wrist, but he persisted in remaining on the field so long as there was a chance of saving it. His adjutant general, Major Sedgwick, bravely rallying and trying to reform the troops, was shot through the body, the bullet lodging in the spine, and fell from his horse. Severe as the wound is, it is probably not mortal. Lieut. Howe, of Gen. Sedgwick's staff, endeavored vainly to rally the 34th New York. They were badly cut up and would not stand. Half their officers were killed or wounded, their colors shot to pieces, the color-sergeant killed, every one of the color-guard wounded. Only thirty-two were afterward got together.

The 15th Massachusetts went into action with 17 officers and nearly 600 men. Nine officers were killed or wounded, and some of the latter are prisoners. One hundred and thirty-four men were the only remnant that could be collected of this splendid regiment.

Gen. Dana was wounded. Gen. Howard, who took command of the division after Gen. Sedgwick was disabled, exerted himself to restore order, but it could not be done there. Gen. Sumner ordered the line to be reformed under fire. The test was too severe for volunteer troops under such a fire. Sumner himself attempted to arrest the disorder, but to little purpose. Lt. Col. Revere and Capt. Audenreid of his staff were wounded severely, but not dangerously. It was impossible to hold the position. Gen. Sumner withdrew the division to the rear, and once more the cornfield was abandoned to the enemy.

French sent word that he could hold his ground. Richardson, while gallantly leading a regiment under heavy fire, was severely wounded in the shoulder. Gen. Meagher was wounded at the head of his brigade. The loss in general officers was becoming frightful.

At one o'clock affairs on the right had a gloomy look. Hooker's troops were greatly exhausted, and their General away from the field. Manfield's were no better. Sumner's command had lost heavily, but two of his divisions were still comparatively fresh. Artillery was yet playing vigorously in front, though the ammunition of many of the batteries was entirely exhausted, and they had been compelled to retire.

Doubleday held the right inflexibly. Sumner's headquarters were now in the narrow field where, the night before, Hooker had begun the fight. All that had been gained in front had been lost! The enemy's batteries, which if advanced and served vigorously, might have made sad work with the closely-massed troops, were fortunately either partially disabled or short of ammunition. Sumner was confident that he could hold his own; but another advance was out of the question. The enemy, on the other hand, seemed to be too much exhausted to attack.

[Concluded to-morrow.]

Seventeenth Ballot.—Sloan 25, David Atwood 21.

Ithamar C. Sloan having received a majority of all the votes cast, was, on motion of David Atwood, unanimously declared the nominee of the convention.

A committee of three was then appointed, of which David Atwood was the chairman, to wait upon the nominee of the convention, to inform him of his nomination, and to request his presence in the hall.

Mr. Sloan then appeared, accompanied by the committee, and addressed the convention, in substance, as follows:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:—

I am deeply grateful for the high honor you have conferred upon me. I am sensible of the responsibility of the position, and of my inability to meet your just expectations should I be elected to the office for which you have put me in nomination, and I feel that the only adequate return I can make to you and to the people of this district, should your choice be ratified by them, at the polls, will be by a faithful adherence to the principles of the republican party, the principles of liberty and equality to all; not only because they are the principles of the republican party, but because constitutional government can be preserved and perpetuated, only by the success and triumph of these principles. Slavery is the awful incubus which for more than forty years has hung with fearful weight on the country, and this inconsistency in our institutions, the antagonism between freedom and slavery, has been the only hindrance to the full developement of the principles upon which our government was founded, and it alone has seriously threatened our existence as a nation, and the perpetuity of our free institutions. For more than forty years there has been going on a conflict between the free labor of the north and the involuntary and unrequited labor of the south, under which the full developement of the institutions of the free states and the people therein has been manifest, while if the slave states have grown at all, they have lagged so far behind their sister states, as to demonstrate, in a wonderful degree, the superiority of free over slave labor. While this has been going on in the physical developement of the two sections, the dominant class in the slave states have been constantly and unremittingly endeavoring to control the government, and to engraft their institution upon the national life, and make slavery the dominant and ruling power, and thus in a measure curse alike the free and the slave states with its baneful influence. Failing in this, and seeing the determination of the free north to resist, in a constitutional way these endeavors, and to prevent the consummation of their purposes, they determined, as they could not rule, to ruin the government which they had so long controlled.

For eighteen months we have been engaged in a war for the suppression of the slaveholders' rebellion, and for the preservation and re-establishment of constitutional government. We have been compelled to meet the men who have been protected by this government, on the battle field as traitors in arms, endeavoring by force to do what they failed fully to accomplish as officers of the government.

Since the ascendancy of the republican party, we have seen slavery disappear from the national capital and the territories, so that in all places where the national government has supreme power no slave can be found. And now, thank God, under the proclamation of the President, slavery is doomed in all the rebellious states, and we have the glorious prospect before us of a government disenthralled and delivered from the curse of slavery, and a country free, stretching from ocean to ocean, from the great lakes to the gulf; and where once was seen the down-trodden bondsman, shut out from the light of liberty, we shall behold nothing but free men. This is no time to discuss these questions. I am wholly unprepared to do so, but at some future time I shall hope to meet you and express my views upon them. Again thanking you for the honor conferred, I now accept the nomination tendered me.

The following committee on resolutions was then appointed: Messrs. Burgess, Atwood and Clark.

On motion, the delegates of the several counties selected the following congressional central committee: B. F. Hopkins, of Dane, chairman; R. H. Mills, of Rock; Alvin Stewart, of Columbia, and D. Jones, Jefferson.

The convention then adjourned to meet at half past seven o'clock in the evening, and upon re-assembling at that hour, the following resolutions were reported and adopted, when the convention adjourned, sine die.

Resolved, That the country is in a crisis demanding the exercise of every prerogative of the government, and every exertion and sacrifice on the part of the people to maintain its integrity and its just authority.

Resolved, That in our opinion it is the duty of the national government to prosecute this war with the utmost vigor, to employ every kind and description of persons and property in this country to accomplish the speedy end of this rebellion.

Resolved, That in our opinion the government ought to prepare for a war of indefinite duration—a war to be prosecuted for one year or ten generations, if it shall be necessary, to accomplish the end in view.

Resolved, That the men who are engaged in armed resistance to the government stand in the double attitude of rebels and of enemies in open war; that, as rebels, they are criminals and traitors, and justly subject to all the penalties and punishments which follow the crime of treason under the constitution and the laws, while as enemies in open war, we may justly pursue, weaken, disable and crush their power by all means which are permitted by the laws of war; and it should be the unalterable purpose of the government to crush out the rebellion utterly, and to destroy forever the power of the leaders to do us harm.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the honesty of purpose, the fidelity to principle, and the zealous patriotism of the President of the United States, and assure him that there is no possibility of his getting in advance of the wishes and sentiments of the people in the employment of any means whatever to restore the authority of the government.

Resolved, That while this war is prosecuted with no other purpose than to preserve the Union and maintain the supremacy of the national government within the legitimate sphere of its authority, over every inch of soil within the limits of the United States and the territories thereunto belonging, we denounce as heretical and pernicious the doctrine that rebels and traitors are entitled to any privileges and protection whatever under the constitution and laws, which they have defied, and for the overthrow of which they have arrayed themselves in arms.

Resolved, That we duly appreciate, and cannot too highly commend the judicous and impartial manner in which our Governor is performing the duties of his office, disregarding all claims or importunities of any special class, interest, or section, and fairly and sagaciously consulting only the public good.

Resolved, That we acknowledge with pride and gratitude the conduct of the brave and patriotic volunteers who have gone from this state to aid in putting down a wicked rebellion. Whenever they have met the foe, they have fought with the intrepid valor of veterans. The luster of their deeds reflects glory upon our young state. We pledge them our warmest sympathy and support; we will spare no pains to contribute to their well being and encouragement. Those who honorably return shall receive the thanks and welcome that brave men deserve; the memories of those who perish by battle or disease, shall be embalmed forever in the hearts of a grateful people.

Resoleed, That we hail the late proclamation of President Lincoln as the morning star of a brighter day, that we adopt it as our platform on which we shall stand until we become a free nation in fact as well as in name.

Resolved, That in the nominee of this convention, the Hon. Ithamar C. Sloan, we recognize an able and fearless champion of the great principles of the republican party, and that we cordially pledge our united and zealous efforts, in all laudable ways to secure his election.

Well Done.

The conduct, in the Assembly, of the friends of the bill for taking the votes of the citizen soldiers in the army, was admirable during the long and factious opposition made against it yesterday. We have seldom seen men, under circumstances so well calculated to irritate, exhibit such good temper in connection with such inflexibility of purpose. They sat patiently, hour after hour, and heard speeches, obviously made for no other purpose than to consume time. They heard, from Messrs. Sanborn, H. L. Palmer and Platto, the vilest insinuations against their loyalty, against the administration, and against the most sacredly cherished convictions of the great majority of the people of the loyal states, without stooping to make any reply. What little was said by the friends of the bill, was spoken only in vindication of its justness, and its constitutionality. They sat right along, from 2½ until 8½ o'clock in the evening, during which time they were compelled to endure a speech from Mr. Palmer of two and a half hours, and another from Mr. Platto of two hours in length. During all this time they preserved the imperturbable good nature and serenity of men who had no doubts of the justice of the measure they were supporting.

Especial credit is due to those democrats who had the honesty and the bravery to break away from the edicts of their caucus and the powerful partisan influences exerted upon them. Messrs. Stamm, Latham and Hatcher acted not only honestly but bravely. We do not include Messrs. Morrow and Bassett in this category for the reason that up to the time of a direct vote on the bill they had co-operated fully with its enemies. Those bogus union democrats, elected from republican districts, who opposed this bill and who have generally voted with the partisan democrats, will doubtless be remembered by their constituents.—Madison Journal.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24.

Buell has flanked Bragg. The latter is retreating. Morgan has evacuated Cumberland Gap and recaptured Richmond, Ky., with many prisoners and large quantities of stores. The panic is over at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24—11 P. M.

The intense excitement of the last few days has given place to great rejoicing at the immediate proximity of seven divisions of Buell's army, which are coming up from the direction of Salt River. The enemy seem to be concentrating at Bloomfield. About 12,000 of them were seen this morning beyond Salt River, on the Bardstown road.

Louisville is now considered entirely safe, and though a fight may occur in our vicinity before the arrival of Buell's divisions, nobody has any fears respecting the result. General Nelson is confident he can hold the position against any odds until the approaching federal reinforcements shall arrive.

LEAVENWORTH, Sept. 24.

The Times, of this city, has advices of a fight on the 20th at Shirley's Ford, ten miles northwest of Carthage, between the 3d Indiana regiment, Col. Richie, and a force of 600 rebels, resulting in the rout of the enemy, with a loss of from sixty to ninety killed.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 24.

An arrival at St. Cloud reports more murders by the Sioux. In the town of Richmond, two men and two children were killed, and the inhabitants were fleeing to St. Cloud, leaving the town to the ravages of the Indians.

A messenger from Fort Abercrombie arrived at St. Cloud on the 21st. He reports the fort safe. The Indians abandoned the siege.

Forty or fifty Chippewa braves offered their services to Gov. Ramsey to-day to fight the Sioux, but they will not be accepted at present.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.

About $50,000 have been collected at San Francisco for the relief of wounded soldiers since the remittance east of the first $100,000. The movement continues unabated, and other portions of the state have commenced the good work in earnest.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.—Gen. Curtis has assumed command of this department, and issued his first general order. He proposes to initiate many wholesome reforms, and will stop the use of the state militia for returning the slaves of rebel owners.

Gen. Schofield's safe arrival at Springfield relieves the anxiety of his friends. Rumors were quite current in town that he has been taken prisoner on the road by the guerrillas.

The proposed meeting to endorse Lincoln's emancipation proclamation has been temporarily postponed.

A private dispatch received in this city, states that Gen. Totten has seized the secessionists near Springfield, and made them work on the rifle pits and fortifications.

About 100 prisoners have arrived within the last 24 hours from all directions.

The Gratiot street prison is again full.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24, (midnight.)

Gen. Buell has just arrived.

Gen. Nelson has just issued an order permitting to-morrow a general resumption of business, the issuing of passes to loyal persons, and the discharge of all enrolled citizens from duty.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that but one license is required for a person who practices medicine, surgery and dentistry; also that ship building is not a manufacture nor liable to taxation.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Whereas, It has become necessary to call into service not only volunteers, but also portions of the militia of the states by draft, in order to suppress the insurrection existing in the United States, and disloyal persons are not adequately restrained by the ordinary process of law from hindering this measure, and from giving aid and comfort in various ways to the insurrection: Now, therefore, be it ordered, first, that during the existing insurrection, and as a necessary measure for suppressing the same, all rebels and insurgents, their aiders and abettors within the United States, and all persons discouraging volunteer enlistments, resisting militia drafts, and guilty of any disloyal practice, offering aid and comfort to the rebels against the authority of the United States, shall be subject to martial law and liable to trial and punishment by court martial or military commission; second, that the writ of habeas corpus is suspended in respect to all persons arrested, or who are now or hereafter, during the rebellion, shall be imprisoned in any fort, camp, arsenal, military prison or other place of confinement, by any military authority, or by the sentence of any court martial or military commission.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 24th day of September, 1862, and of the independence of the United States the 87th. (Signed)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President, Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.

So much of general order 15 as directs the dismissal of Capt. J. O. Patten, 73d Ohio, is by direction of the President, revoked. A special commission, consisting of Generals Hunter, Cadwallader, and Auger, and several other officers, with Col. Holt as judge advocate, will assemble here, to-morrow, for the consideration of such business as may come before them. In addition to Gen. White, Cols. Dutessey, Trimble and Ford arrived, to-day, from Annapolis, under arrest, in connection with the Harper's Ferry surrender.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.

A large crowd assembled at the Executive Mansion, to-day, for the purpose of serenading the President. Having been cheered and called for, he appeared at an upper window, and spoke as follows:

Fellow Citizens:—I appear before you to do but little more than acknowledge the courtesy you pay me, and thank you for it. I have not been distinctly informed why it is, on this occasion, you appear to do me this honor, though I suppose, [interruptions, "It's because of the proclamations." Cries of "Good," and applause.] I suppose I understand it. [Laughter. Voices, "You do, you thoroughly understand it."]

What I did, I did after a very full deliberation, and under a very heavy and solemn sense of responsibility. [Cries of "Good," "Good," "God bless you," and applause.]

I can only trust in God I have made no mistake. [Cries of "No mistake," "All right," "You've made no mistake yet," "Your right."]

I shall make no attempt on this occasion to sustain what I have done or said, by any comment. It is now for the country and the world to pass judgment upon it, and they may take action upon it. I will say no more upon this subject. In my position I am environed with difficulties, yet they are scarcely so great as the difficulties of those who upon the battle field are endeavoring to purchase with their blood and their lives the future happiness and prosperity of this country. [Applause and long continued cheering.] Let us never forget them. On the 16th and 17th of this present month there have been battles bravely, skillfully and successfully fought. We do not yet know the particulars; let us be sure that in giving praise to particular persons, we do no injustice to others. I only ask you at the conclusion of these few remarks to give three hearty cheers to all good and brave officers and men who fought those successful battles.

Cheer after cheer was given, when the President bade the crowd good night and withdrew.

The procession then proceeded to the residence of Secretary Chase. He understood they had just paid their respects to the chief magistrate of the republic to thank him for having issued a proclamation which will find a response in the hearts of the American people. No one, he said, can rejoice more sincerely in the belief that the judgment you have expressed will be the judgment of the entire people of the United States. I am better accustomed to work than to speak. I love acts better than words, but nothing has ever given me more sincere pleasure than to say amen to this last great act of the chief magistrate.

Attorney General Bates was called upon and made a few remarks expressing thanks for the compliment.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 24.

The governors of nearly all the loyal states met here to-day, at noon, according to agreement. Fourteen governors were present, and three states were represented by proxy. They held an informal meeting from 1 to 2 o'clock. The governors of the following states were present: Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Iowa, Maine, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Ohio, Maryland, New Hampshire, Virginia, Illinois and Indiana. Kentucky, Missouri and Vermont were represented by proxy. Governor Ramsey was absent, on account of Indian troubles.

At the second meeting at 4 P. M., the greatest unanimity appeared to prevail with regard to the President's proclamation.

The convention again met at 10 o'clock this evening, and will probably remain in session all night. Gov. Curtin will propose and urge strongly upon the convention the propriety of insisting upon the removal by the national government of all sick and wounded volunteers to their respective states, which will be heartily supported by Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, and others. No doubt appears to exist as to its adoption.

Major General McClernand and staff are here.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 24.

One hundred guns were fired here, at noon to-day, bells rung, and bonfires made in the evening, in honor of the President's proclamation.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.

A gentleman from Williamsport this forenoon says that no troops had passed into Virginia up to 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, neither had any of the different divisions received any orders for a forward movement. The impression seemed to prevail among the soldiers that when they did move they would proceed into Western Virginia, crossing at Williamsport. The enemy, he says, will undoubtedly dispute the crossing here, and when McClellan orders a forward movement, a battle will undoubtedly take place at this point. This gentleman dined at a house in Hagerstown where Lee and staff made their headquarters. The lady of the house says she heard Lee instruct his officers to see that no depredations were committed by soldiers while in Maryland, but when they entered Pennsylvania they might pillage and destroy everything on their route.

Quartermaster General Hale visited the different hospitals at Hagerstown to-day, and reports the sick and wounded properly cared for. They have bandages for their comfort, but jellies and other delicacies are much needed.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.

Flour 5,10a5,30 for super western; 5,50a5,75 for common to medium extra western. Wheat 1a2c higher—1,12a1,18 for Chicago spring; 1,15,a1,20 for Milwaukee club.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.

Special to Herald.—Gen. Morgan has not evacuated Cumberland Gap. He is amply provisioned for two months, and will hold out to the last.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.

Sharpsburg letter to the Philadelphia Enquirer says it has been semi-officially stated that our loss in the battle of Antietam was 9,220 killed, wounded and missing, and the loss of the rebels, judging from the appearance of the battle field, must exceed 10,000.

Dr. Duffie, brigade surgeon on Sigel's staff, has arrived at Philadelphia from Richmond, where he has been a prisoner four or five weeks. One of Pope's officers had been deliberately shot at Richmond and reported died of congestion of the brain. Three or four thousand rebel soldiers were under guard upon a charge of attempted desertion. There are around Richmond 5,000 or 10,000 troops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.

The post office department has received information from various sources that certain persons persistently divert postage stamps from their legitimate purposes by circulating them in packages, together with cancelled stamps, as currency. Owing to this use of stamps, the department is embarrassed in the supply for mail purposes. The public, therefore, are interested in discountenancing their circulation as currency. In all cases of infraction of the law, coming to the knowledge of the post office department the parties will be prosecuted, as it is a grave offense. This, of course, has no connection with the specially designated stamp currency.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.

Information received from the commissioner of Indian affairs, states that the difficulties with the Chippewas in Minnesota have been adjusted, but he is fearful that the troubles with the Sioux in the same state have only just commenced, and that they will be of long continuance.

Gen. Prince and other officers recently captured from the late army of Pope, have been released by the rebel government and will arrive at Annapolis this evening.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.

Times correspondence—Several rebel prisoners captured by Sigel's corps near Centreville, were brought here to-day. They gave the loss of the rebels in the late battles in Maryland at about 20,000. The rebels have concentrated their forces at Winchester, which place they are fortifying. They regard the capture of Harper's Ferry as an offset to the loss of the battle on the Antietam, and say their retreat from Maryland was effected in the best of order. These prisoners report the loss of rebel officers in the late engagements as very great.

A dispatch from a Times' special just received, says Lt. Karney has returned from a scouting expedition to Leesburg, and vicinity. The rebels have cavalry in all directions, in that neighborhood. There are no rebel soldiers between Washington and Centerville.

Some refugees from Richmond just arrived state that there are no rebel pickets between Hanover Court House and the Potomac, and only 20 men were stationed along the railroad between Hanover and Richmond. Great apprehension of famine prevail among the lower classes in Richmond, the price of provisions already being so high as to almost place them beyond their reach.

MARRIED.

In Orford, September 21st, by the Rev. Henry Sewell, Mr. HENRY WRIGHT, of the town of Porter, Rock county, and Miss JULIA VAN HORN, of Cambridge, Dane county.

DIED.

In this city, September 25th, GEORGE D., only child of Ellis and Olive Doty, aged one year, six months and twelve days.

The funeral services will be held at their residence, corner of Bluff and North Second streets, at 10 o'clock A. M., to-morrow.

Rock County Militia Statistics.

BELOIT, Sept. 24, 1862.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Agreeably with your request, I enclose to you the statistics of the militia list for this county, showing the exemptions granted, and the present condition of the list, by towns and wards.

The exemptions for physical disability are numerous in proportion to the number on the lists, but it should be borne in mind that some twenty-five hundred sound men have already entered the service from this county. I cheerfully bear testimony to the energy, diligence and faithfulness of our surgeon and his assistants in the discharge of their duties; but it would be very singular that if, in the examination of some twenty-five hundred applicants in the short time allowed for this purpose, there should not have been some errors committed, and some successful deception practiced by the applicants. Yours respectfully,

J. H. FRENCH,
Commissioner for Rock County.

Legislative.

TUESDAY, 2 o'clock P. M.

In the ASSEMBLY, the army suffrage bill was taken up, after a long debate, which extended until half past eight o'clock in the evening, and which was conducted mainly by democratic members in opposition to the bill. Mr. Beardsley moved the previous question.

Mr. Platto moved a call of the House.

Mr. Chandler moved to dispense with further proceedings under the call, which prevailed, ayes 55, nays 32.

The previous question was seconded, and the main question ordered.

The bill then passed the following vote—Republicans in Roman, Democrats in italic, Union men in SMALL CAPS:

Ayes—Adams, Arnold, Bannister, Barnes, Barron, Basset, Bates, Bean, Beardsley, Bowman, Boyce, Brandon, O. Brown, Chandler, Combs, Crosby, Dockstater, Field, Guernsey, Hall, Hammond, W. E. Hanson, S. Hanson, Hatcher, Howard, Hubbard, Johnson, Latham, Leonard, McDill, Matts, Miller, Mills, Moore, Newick, Nichols, E. Palmer, Pope, Reed, Rounseville, Sanderson, Stamm, STARKS, Stevens, Stuntz, Taylor, Thompson, Upham, Vivian, Webb, and Williams—51.

Noes—Abert, Barry, Boyd, G. W. Brown, Butler, Cahill, Catton, Coles, DUTCHER, Elliott, Ellis, Finger, Gage, Gifford, Gregory, Griffin, Hoeflinger, Hogan, Hoppock, Jennings, Kirchloff, McLean, Maloy, Mayer, Platto, Rogan, Salter, Sanborn, Semman, Scheltz, Shumway, Stowell, H. S. Thomas, J. E. Thomas, TRIPP, Vanderpool, Wadsworth, Wilson, and Mr. Speaker Palmer—39.

Mr. Sanborn moved to adjourn.

Mr. Starks moved to reconsider the vote just taken.

The motion to adjourn was lost.

Mr. Chandler moved to re-consider the vote by which the soldiers' voting bill had passed.

On motion of Mr. Field, this motion was tabled—ayes 52, noes 40.

Whereupon the House adjourned at 8½ P. M.

WEDNESDAY, Sept 24, 1862.

Mr. Morrow obtained leave to record his vote in favor, and Mr. McCollum against the army suffrage bill.

By Mr. Barron, memorial from citizens of Richland for a law to allow military companies to elect their own officers.

By Mr. Bannister, several petitions for an act authorizing towns to pay bounties to volunteers.

The bill providing for a settlement with the Rock River Canal Company was returned from the Senate with sundry amendments, some of which were concurred in.

Mr. Sanborn moved to amend one of the amendments requiring the commissioners appointed to settle if they found the claims to be barred by the statute of limitations, to decide that nothing shall be allowed. Mr. S. also charged that a member of Congress was here lobbying for the bill.

Mr. Tripp moved indefinitely to postpone. Lost.

A long debate followed on the proposed amendment; it was finally lost.

The other amendments were then concurred in.

A bill correcting a clerical error in a bill enabling Green Bay to aid the Northwestern rail-road company was concurred in.

Adjourned till three o'clock.

Notice to Soldiers.

Every member of Capt. Wemple's and Capt. Miltimore's companies are requested to be at their head quarters TO-MORROW (Friday), EVENING, 26th inst., without fail, prepared to go to Racine on Saturday.

The Battle of Iuka.

CORINTH, Miss., Sept. 21.

I must write you a word or two about the battle of Iuka.

Price had taken up a position about a mile and a half north of Iuka, as if he were on the way to Tennessee. The plan was for Rosecrans to approach him from Jacinto and Grant from Corinth, the latter keeping on the north side of the railroad, and the battle was to take place Saturday morning. Information had also been received to the effect that Van Dorn and Breckinridge were expected to make a junction with Price during the early part of this week, and therefore it was a further object of Grant and Rosecrans to whip Price before this was effected.

Grant's army left Corinth on Thursday, taking the road to Burnsville, 15 miles east of Corinth. At the same time Rosecrans moved from Clear Creek and Jacinto for Iuka. On Friday morning Grant's pickets confronted Price near Burnsville. About 11 a. m., Price learned that Rosecrans was closing in on him from the south. He accordingly broke up camp, marched south, and cut his way through Rosecrans' division. On Saturday morning Grant marched on Iuka in battle array, but the enemy had fled, and Grant was left to look like the boy that let the bird go.

About 450 are reported killed and wounded on our side—the Minnesota Fifth, and the Missouri Eleventh suffering the most severely.

The charge through our division was led by Texas troops, who fought like devils, bayoneting both the wounded and the well.

It seems to be true that Gen. Little was killed and Whitefield wounded on the rebel side; also that Gen. Rosecrans was in pursuit at last accounts. Gen. McPherson did not estimate the rebel loss any higher than our own. He thought the probabilities were that it was not so great.

It is reported that Price was at Rienzi (14 miles south of Corinth, on the railroad) Saturday night. This, I think, is merely a report.

Grant and staff are expected back at Corinth to-day. His army is to return also. Most of the regiments about Corinth, if not all, have been ordered to move their camps inside of the breastworks. The trees in the neighborhood of Corinth are all felled, and breastworks are being thrown up on all the hills, and the heavy, siege guns (that Halleck had) mounted.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.—How strange and wonderful it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their ruins and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is, that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion: the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

Rock County Militia Statistics.

BELOIT, Sept. 24, 1862.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Agreeably with your request, I enclose to you the statistics of the militia list for this county, showing the exemptions granted, and the present condition of the list, by towns and wards.

The exemptions for physical disability are numerous in proportion to the number on the lists, but it should be borne in mind that some twenty-five hundred sound men have already entered the service from this county. I cheerfully bear testimony to the energy, diligence and faithfulness of our surgeon and his assistants in the discharge of their duties; but it would be very singular that if, in the examination of some twenty-five hundred applicants in the short time allowed for this purpose, there should not have been some errors committed, and some successful deception practiced by the applicants.

Yours respectfully,
J. H. FRENCH,
Commissioner for Rock County.

Mr. Starks moved to reconsider the vote just taken.

The motion to adjourn was lost.

Mr. Sanborn moved to amend one of the amendments requiring the commissioners appointed to settle if they found the claims to be barred by the statute of limitations, to decide that nothing shall be allowed. Mr. S. also charged that a member of Congress was here lobbying for the bill.

Mr. Tripp moved indefinitely to postpone. Lost.

The Battle of Iuka.

CORINTH, Miss., Sept. 21.

I must write you a word or two about the battle of Iuka.

Price had taken up a position about a mile and a half north of Iuka, as if he were on the way to Tennessee. The plan was for Rosecrans to approach him from Jacinto and Grant from Corinth, the latter keeping on the north side of the railroad, and the battle was to take place Saturday morning. Information had also been received to the effect that Van Dorn and Breckinridge were expected to make a junction with Price during the early part of this week, and therefore it was a further object of Grant and Rosecrans to whip Price before this was effected.

Grant's army left Corinth on Thursday, taking the road to Burnsville, 15 miles east of Corinth. At the same time Rosecrans moved from Clear Creek and Jacinto for Iuka. On Friday morning Grant's pickets confronted Price near Burnsville. About 11 a. m., Price learned that Rosecrans was closing in on him from the south. He accordingly broke up camp, marched south, and cut his way through Rosecrans' division. On Saturday morning Grant marched on Iuka in battle array, but the enemy had fled, and Grant was left to look like the boy that let the bird go.

About 450 are reported killed and wounded on our side—the Minnesota Fifth, and the Missouri Eleventh suffering the most severely.

The charge through our division was led by Texas troops, who fought like devils, bayoneting both the wounded and the well.

It seems to be true that Gen. Little was killed and Whitefield wounded on the rebel side; also that Gen. Rosecrans was in pursuit at last accounts. Gen. McPherson did not estimate the rebel loss any higher than our own. He thought the probabilities were that it was not so great.

It is reported that Price was at Rienzi (14 miles south of Corinth, on the railroad) Saturday night. This, I think, is merely a report.

Grant and staff are expected back at Corinth to-day. His army is to return also. Most of the regiments about Corinth, if not all, have been ordered to move their camps inside of the breastworks. The trees in the neighborhood of Corinth are all felled, and breastworks are being thrown up on all the hills, and the heavy, siege guns (that Halleck had) mounted.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.—How strange and wonderful it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their ruins and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is, that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.

WARRANTEE DEEDS FOR SALE,

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY,

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

Rock County Militia Statistics.

BELOIT, Sept. 24, 1862.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Agreeably with your request, I enclose to you the statistics of the militia list for this county, showing the exemptions granted, and the present condition of the list, by towns and wards.

The exemptions for physical disability are numerous in proportion to the number on the lists, but it should be borne in mind that some twenty-five hundred sound men have already entered the service from this county. I cheerfully bear testimony to the energy, diligence and faithfulness of our surgeon and his assistants in the discharge of their duties; but it would be very singular that if, in the examination of some twenty-five hundred applicants in the short time allowed for this purpose, there should not have been some errors committed, and some successful deception practiced by the applicants. Yours respectfully,

J. H. FRENCH,
Commissioner for Rock County.

The Battle of Iuka.

CORINTH, Miss., Sept. 21.

I must write you a word or two about the battle of Iuka.

Price had taken up a position about a mile and a half north of Iuka, as if he were on the way to Tennessee. The plan was for Rosecrans to approach him from Jacinto and Grant from Corinth, the latter keeping on the north side of the railroad, and the battle was to take place Saturday morning. Information had also been received to the effect that Van Dorn and Breckinridge were expected to make a junction with Price during the early part of this week, and therefore it was a further object of Grant and Rosecrans to whip Price before this was effected.

Grant's army left Corinth on Thursday, taking the road to Burnsville, 15 miles east of Corinth. At the same time Rosecrans moved from Clear Creek and Jacinto for Iuka. On Friday morning Grant's pickets confronted Price near Burnsville. About 11 a. m., Price learned that Rosecrans was closing in on him from the south. He accordingly broke up camp, marched south, and cut his way through Rosecrans' division. On Saturday morning Grant marched on Iuka in battle array, but the enemy had fled, and Grant was left to look like the boy that let the bird go.

About 450 are reported killed and wounded on our side—the Minnesota Fifth, and the Missouri Eleventh suffering the most severely.

The charge through our division was led by Texas troops, who fought like devils, bayoneting both the wounded and the well.

It seems to be true that Gen. Little was killed and Whitefield wounded on the rebel side; also that Gen. Rosecrans was in pursuit at last accounts. Gen. McPherson did not estimate the rebel loss any higher than our own. He thought the probabilities were that it was not so great.

It is reported that Price was at Rienzi (14 miles south of Corinth, on the railroad) Saturday night. This, I think, is merely a report.

Grant and staff are expected back at Corinth to day. His army is to return also. Most of the regiments about Corinth, if not all, have been ordered to move their camps inside of the breastworks. The trees in the neighborhood of Corinth are all felled, and breastworks are being thrown up on all the hills, and the heavy, siege guns (that Halleck had) mounted.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.—How strange and wonderful it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their ruins and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is, that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.

WARRANTED DEEDS FOR SALE,

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufacturers to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.
